Branch Dojos are responsible for referring prospective Jun-Shibu Dojos to the Hombu Dojo in order for the Hombu Dojo to facilitate the conversion process. The following subsections outline the conversion process:

- (a) Initial Hombu Dojo Visit. Prospective Jun-Shibu Dojos must undertake an initial visit to the Hombu Dojo to be attended by the prospective Jun-Shibu Dojo owner(s), as well as senior students of the prospective Jun-Shibu Dojo. During this visit, the aforementioned representatives of the Jun-Shibu Dojo shall observe class, and meet with the President (and Hombu Dojo sempai) to discuss the Jun-Shibu Dojo conversion process.
- (b) Second Official Hombu Dojo Visit / Decision to Pursue Association Membership. After four to six weeks following a prospective Jun-Shibu Dojo's initial visit to the Hombu Dojo, the prospective Jun-Shibu Dojo must decide whether to pursue joining the Association. In the event of an affirmative decision, the members of the Jun-Shibu Dojo will return to the Hombu Dojo and begin to learn the Association's basic curriculum. During the learning process, the Hombu Dojo will continually evaluate the Jun-Shibu Dojo's commitment, progress and character. The Hombu Dojo will also investigate the Jun-Shibu Dojo's background, history and reputation.

Total Conversion Time at this Point in the Process: 4-6 Weeks.

- (c) Third Official Hombu Dojo Visit / Evaluation. After four to six weeks following the Second Official Hombu Dojo Visit, representatives of the Jun-Shibu Dojo must return to the Hombu Dojo in order for the Hombu Dojo to evaluate the Jun-Shibu Dojo's progress and to provide additional information regarding the conversation process. These representatives will then return to the Jun-Shibu Dojo to teach what they've learned to other members of the Jun-Shibu Dojo, and will prepare to host a seminar conducted by the President as described in subsection (d) below. Up until this point, the Hombu Dojo does not expect a commitment from the Jun-Shibu Dojo to formally join the Association if approved by the President.

Total Conversion Time at this Point in the Process: 2-3 Months.

- (d) First Jun-Shibu Dojo Seminar. After two to four months following a decision to pursue joining the Association and to learn the Association's basic curriculum, the Jun-Shibu Dojo must arrange, at the Jun-Shibu Dojo's expense, for the President and a senior Association member to visit the Jun-Shibu Dojo and hold a seminar. The seminar will give the President and the senior Association member an opportunity to evaluate the Jun-Shibu Dojo. The seminar will also give the Jun-Shibu Dojo an additional opportunity to observe the long-term advantages of membership in the Association, and to further evaluate whether to formally join the Association if approved by the President.

Total Conversion Time at this Point in the Process: 4-7 Months.

- (e) Third Official Hombu Dojo Visit / Evaluation. Two to four months following the seminar held by the President as described in subsection (d) above, representatives of the Jun-Shibu Dojo must return to the Hombu Dojo. At this point, representatives of the Jun-Shibu Dojo continue to progress in their understanding of the Association's curriculum and, if appropriate, may advance to learn higher level kata, kumite and bunkai. Following the visit, representatives of the Jun-Shibu Dojo then relay these additional teachings to other members of the Jun-Shibu Dojo.

At this stage of the conversion process, the Hombu Dojo continues to evaluate the progress of the Jun-Shibu Dojo owner(s) as well as students of the owner(s). Additionally, the Hombu Dojo will have verified the history, background and reputation of the Jun-Shibu Dojo.

Total Conversion Time at this Point in the Process: 6-11 Months.

- (f) Fourth Official Hombu Dojo Visit / Evaluation. Two to four months following the Jun-Shibu Dojo's Third Official Hombu Dojo Visit, representatives of the Jun-Shibu Dojo must return to the Hombu Dojo with a full commitment to join the Association. At this time, the Hombu Dojo will continue to evaluate the progress and effort of members of the Jun-Shibu Dojo to learn the Association's curriculum. The Hombu Dojo will also finalize arrangements for the President to hold a second and final seminar at the Jun-Shibu Dojo within two to four months of the Fourth Official Hombu Dojo Visit.

Total Conversion Time at this Point in the Process: 10-15 Months.

- (g) Second Jun-Shibu Dojo Seminar. Two to four months following the Jun-Shibu Dojo's Fourth Official Hombu Dojo Visit, the Jun-Shibu Dojo shall host, at the Jun-Shibu Dojo's expense, a seminar conducted by the President and a senior Association member in order for the President to conduct a final evaluation of the Jun-Shibu Dojo.

Total Conversion Time at this Point in the Process: 12-19 Months.

7.2 Conversion Decision. Following the step described in subsection (g) of Section 7.1, the President shall make one of three determinations stated as follows: (a) the Jun-Shibu Dojo has made sufficient progress to convert to a Branch Dojo; (b) the Jun-Shibu Dojo requires additional time, study and training to convert to a Branch Dojo; or (c) the Jun-Shibu Dojo is not suited to join the Association.

If the President decides that the Jun-Shibu Dojo may convert to a Branch Dojo and join the Association, the Jun-Shibu Dojo owner(s) shall return to the Hombu Dojo with senior students for final instruction and formal induction into the Association.
